what is sonder?

the realisation that every stranger has a life as vivid and complex as your own.

It's zooming out and realizing your worries aren't as visible to others as you think. Everyone around you is too busy living their own full, complicated life to be keeping score of yours.

what do we provide?

a space that doesn't perform a space where people can write honestly about their lives- the small wins, the things they've never said out loud. Sonder is where you come when you're tired of curating yourself.

what you'll find here

journal prompts, confessions, threads, advices where strangers share the same quiet fears. A feed that feels less like a competition and more like deep talks with people who gets it or are in the same phases of life as you

the platform

a quiet space for real reflection.

A mindful community and a safe place for journal prompts, shared experiences, mindfullness and gentle reminders that the world lives in everyone. No pressure to perform.

the word lives in everyone
